

Client: University College for the Creative Arts
Source: Farnham Herald (Main)
Date: 07 March 2008
Page: 10
Circulation: 32000
Size: 44cm2
AVE: 94.16

Delightful weave in simple exhibition

MAKEBA Lewis is a weaver and textile designer of some talent who, although still young, has already set up her own company and become very successful. She is currently exhibiting at The Crafts Study Centre, Farnham, in

'Weave'. The exhibition is simple yet attractive, as her colours and patterning is varied. It is mostly new work from her 'Nomad' collection of pleated scarves and neckpieces, with some of her woven jewellery also on show. She uses 24 carat gold and sterling silver threads as well as copper yarn in her displayed pieces, which makes them delightful to look at. The exhibition lasts until March 29. Call 01252 891450, or visit www.csc.ucreative.ac.uk

Eric Buesnel